

Who we are

We are an Artificial Intelligence company that specializes in industry-specific visual recognition, solving core business needs with razor-sharp precision.

By focusing deeply on specific contexts, we're able to push the boundaries of computer vision to the next level. We go beyond object recognition (that's so 2016) and teach computers how to understand intangible visual concepts (e.g "this room has natural light"), something trivial for a human to understand but complex for a machine.

Job description

We are looking for a full stack developer who is passionate about technology, always looking for new ways to tackle complex issues. As our Full Stack Engineer, you would be in charge of our frontend, backend and everything in between. You'll be a key player both in managing our state-of-the-art AI solutions and bringing them to market.

We use JQuery, Bootstrap, Elastic Stack, OAuth2 and many many more and we are always looking for the best tool for the job.

The main responsibilities of this role will be

- Work closely with the Product and Marketing team to develop intuitive web interfaces and plugins.
- Work closely with the CTO for all things related to backend management and log monitoring.
- Take charge of all frontend-backend integrations.
- Lead and facilitate the building of new tools for Marketing, API testing, and other internal needs.
- Provide your technical vision in discussions around software architecture and product definition.

Background and Skills

- Deep experience with frontend technologies like JQuery, Bootstrap, CSS, WordPress and PHP.
- Deep experience with integrating technologies like Stripe, 3Scale, Kong, API Umbrella.
- Experience with Elastic Stack for log reporting, monitoring and analysis.
- An evangelist of API best practices.
- The passion to keep up with the latest best practices, tools, and frameworks.
- Willingness to dive deep into any area and the motivation to truly master it.
- An active github portfolio is a big plus.
