10 PhD positions open at DTIC-UPF

María de Maeztu Strategic Research Program on Artificial and Natural Intelligence for ICT and beyond

The Department of Information and Communication Technologies at UPF (https://www.upf.edu/web/etic) has opened 10 PhD positions within its María de Maeztu Strategic Research Program on Artificial and Natural Intelligence for ICT and beyond (https://www.upf.edu/web/mdm-dtic/), for qualified students in different ICT domains, and interest for interdisciplinary research.

Specifically, the positions below target students with a computer vision background:

- PhD scholarship in Visual motifs identification and comparative image learning.
- PhD scholarship in Forgetting how to see language.
- Interdisciplinary PhD scholarship in Computational Modeling of Visual Communication.
- PhD position in advance data analytics and visualization applied to craniofacial dysmorphology patterns.

See more details at https://www.upf.edu/web/mdm-dtic/positions